The eagle is an appropriate symbol of courage and strength. Its majesty is seldom equaled. From great heights the eagle is able to see small animals. Its keen eyesight also allows it to see an approaching storm long before others see it. Yet, rather than fleeing the storm as other creatures do, the eagle waits. As the storm draws closer, the eagle hesitates until the storm is almost there. Then, with majestic grace it wings into flight. Circling higher and higher, the eagle ascends above the storm, conquering the foe.

How do we handle the storms of our lives? God has designed us to fly above them and conquer impossible situations. But this can only happen as we "wait patiently upon the Lord," and thereby "mount up with wings like eagles." I'll see you in church, Stephen

"Other than our members, who would miss Central Presbyterian Church if we didn't exist?" --Margaret Scott

The answer to that question lies at the heart of WHY. Those who share our passions and our beliefs would miss us. Those who share our cause would miss us. But we have to know what that is.

Join us THIS SUNDAY to learn our WHY and how the Session discerned that as God's direction for us.

Menu for this evening is Mexican Potluck. Those whose last names begin with:

A-G please bring a Mexican salad

H-O please bring a Mexican main dish
